If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them.

Henry David Thoreau

THE WAYS OF THOUGHT

Until philosophers are kings, or the kings and princes of this world have the spirit and power of philosophy, and political greatness and wisdom meet in one, . . . cities will never have rest from their evils, — no, nor the human race, as I believe, — and then only will this our State have a possibility of life and behold the light of day.

The Republic
Plato

Today, we the people will determine the destiny of our nation, not kings or princes. If then, we were motivated by the spirit of philosophy, perhaps we would come closer to discovering a civilization where the dream of every man become a reality.

Through education these philosophies are born. Education stimulates a search for truth and gives direction to our thoughts. Eventually these thoughts are formulated into a set of ideals which becomes our foundation of living. Although our philosophies can never be fully realized, through them we do find the impetus toward our goals.

In Appreciation . . .

We would like to express our deepest appreciation to our teachers, who have patiently led us to the crossroads of our education.

Having reached this point in life's road, the guidance and knowledge given to us by our teachers continues to echo in our hearts.

If we each heed these echoes and use their messages wisely, the fulfillment of our individual ambitions will inevitably follow.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Your high school experiences at Marple-Newtown will probably be remembered as one of the highlights of your life. You may, in fact, like many persons consider your school days the happiest period of your life. This yearbook, edited and compiled by members of your class, records the activities and personalities of your high school for the 1961-62 school year. Its contents will assist you in recalling your experiences at Marple-Newtown for many years hence. For providing this fine pictorial history for your school and each member of your class, I join you in expressing appreciation to the advisor, the co-editors, and the staff of the 1961-62 yearbook.

To seniors, I extend my best wishes for success and happiness as well as an invitation to continue an active interest in your Alma Mater throughout life.

To all readers of this yearbook, I wish many happy years of reminiscence of days at Marple-Newtown.

Kermit M. Stover

PRINCIPALS

To each member of the class of 1962, I extend my best wishes for success in your chosen vocation and happiness in a full and satisfying life.

You may be proud of the accomplishments of your class. The Class of 1962 has contributed much in scholarship, citizenship and in athletics to the growth and status of Marple-Newtown Senior High School. It is my with that you will retain these characteristics as you assume the responsibilities of adult citizens in this troubled world.

It is hoped that upon graduation you will maintain an active interest in your school and will find many opportunities to visit the school in future years.

William F. Nye

Principal

Dear Graduates,

We must never stop trying to improve ourselves. In this way, we insure the improvement of our families and our country; those things dearest to us. This is the heart of the philosophy of America. This is at once our challenge and opportunity for enduring happiness. Guided by ever deepening spiritual and intellectual values, self-determination can make of you almost whatever you want to become. You have only to decide now to do right and all nature will strive to aid you in your effort. Obstacles will become opportunities to test your developing powers. Confidence will grow with each victory, and defeats will become only plateaus. It is then that we may come to experience the most satisfying joys of life: the joy of healthy unspent forces; the joy of purpose and achievement; and the joy of the strong disciplined, loyal life.

Planning for the Future

Evaluation of the Senior High School by the Middle States Association, curriculum planning, expansion of the school system to meet increased educational requirements, and many other problems were the subject of much discussion and analysis by the Marple-Newtown Joint Board during the past year.

These people have been elected by the citizens of our communities to guide and direct the educational plans and policies of Marple and Newtown townships. In their hands rests the responsibility for providing the best, most desirable educational facilities not only for us today, but also planning for the future requirements in the years ahead. Their job is to establish the policies under which our school system will operate. To all of these dedicated people we give our sincere thanks.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department of Marple-Newtown Senior High is organized in such a way as to give the student the benefits of a good student-teacher relationship. The student body is broken down into small groups, and each group is assigned to a particular teacher. That teacher, known as an advisor, acts as a liason between the student and the counsellor and between the staff and the student. The student, in this way, gets the benefit of being known as an individual through his close relationship with his advisor.

The advisor helps the student with small, routine problems, and if he needs additional aid, he is referred to his counsellor.

Mrs. Martha G. Scutt, Mr. Edward F. Grubbs, Mr. Bruce B. Dimmick, Mrs. Anne Gallen, and Miss Anne Speer.

Our Guidance Department has set forth an excellent program for this year which includes: (1) educational and vocational planning, (2) academic or grade achievement in subject matter areas, and (3) social and personal adjustment, growth, and development. This program will be successfully carried forth with the help of our understanding advisors and counsellors. The Senior Class counsellors for this year are Miss Speer for the girls and Mr. Dimmick for the boys. The Junior Class counsellors are Mr. Grubbs for the boys and Mrs. Scutt for the girls.

J. Clements, C. Wilson, C. Lawrence, H. Spina, F. Ballaron, H. Orr, N. Tross (staff manager).
Not Shown-Mr. Roland Grimsley, Cafeteria Manager.

CAFETERIA

To most students, lunch is the most important period of the day. This was made apparent this year by the mix up of A and B lunch. Some students had two lunch periods in one day.

Everyone who likes to eat is indebted to the able staff found in the cafeteria. They prepare the food tastily, with an eye to our health. Mr. Grimsley, school dietician, keeps a constant vigil to insure the high quality of our school lunches.

NURSES

It is almost desirable to get sick if you can visit a nurse like Mrs. Mannino or Mrs. Weidinman. The nursing staff is always ready to help anyone with his headache or broken bone. They are kind and considerate even though they always see the worst side of us. Their many tasks are often overlooked by the healthy population of Marple-Newton.

J. Mannino, A. Weidinman

J. Mercer, W. Gustafson, C. Mattson, and G. Earle.

CUSTODIANS

The unrewarded custodians do many of the laborious tasks which keep our school building running efficiently. The shining floors, clean blackboards, and tidy rooms are all products of their toil. The custodians work long hours keeping our building as beautiful as it was when it was new. All summer they clean and prepare for the following year. We at Marple-Newton are proud of our school. The custodians help make us prouder.

BUS DRIVERS

Every morning at seven the faithful bus drivers begin their rounds. They know and greet each student on their route. Their cheery smile will often brighten up an otherwise gloomy day. Under the coordination of Mr. Brown, who arranges schedules and routes, they perform their daily duties. The school would be much smaller if the bus drivers did not make it possible for students who live miles from school to attend. Our students are grateful to the bus drivers and their difficult task.

ACTIVITIES

Student

The Student Council, government of the student body, played an important part in school activities. It was responsible for operating the School Store, conducting assemblies, chartering new clubs, organizing intra-mural programs, and sponsoring many dances. Its special activity was the Annual Variety Show, Puerto Rican Holiday, which was an outstanding success. Most profitable was the charity drive held under council supervision during which the Senior High collected more than in previous years.

Under the leadership of Larry Engle, the students came to respect an active, purposeful organization. Van Tabb, vice-president of the council, had full command of the School Store. Each day students had an opportunity to purchase school supplies, jackets, cheering aids for sports activities, and many other items. With the central location of the store, Van was able to make it a center of activity every day.

The responsibility of correspondence and minutes fell upon Lynn Dulaney, who accurately reported the happenings of every meeting. Joan Scott, who handled the finances, managed to keep the council in the black.

The monitor system was under the direction of Jan Ceton, Sergeant-at-Arms. Without this group the hallways would have been jammed with students late for class. Jack Chidester as Parliamentarian kept the meetings orderly. With his aid the representatives learned while they governed. Under the guidance of Mrs. Egner, the Student Council remained an active governing body and a credit to our school.

STUDENT NEWS

The Student News is one of the most widely read sections of the County Leader. Every Thursday, when it is sold at the school, students rush to buy it. It contains sport stories, gossip columns, club news, feature stories, and of course, editorials. Its purpose is to inform both the school and the community of interesting and important events in our school.

This page in the County Leader is compiled and edited by a staff of twenty-five students. They work at the County Leader office in an atmosphere which in-stills a love of the newspaper in their blood while giving them valuable experience.

OCTAGON

The literary magazine was given a new name and a new advisor this year. The new name is The Octagon, and the new advisor is Mrs. Mildred Stevenson. The purpose of the magazine is to stimulate interest in creative writing and to serve as an outlet for those who possess talent in written and artistic endeavors.

The Pumpkin Prom

This past school year was an extremely active and busy one for the Mar-News staff. Under the guidance of Mr. Ralph Wikstrom and the capable co-editors, Larry Kun and Hillary Hampson, the issues proved to be fine displays of feature and news stories. Eight issues were printed instead of the usual six. The issues were highlighted by a special Christmas issue and by the popular end-of-the-year senior issue.

Mar-News Will Present Award to Outstanding Athlete for Fall Sports

Whom do you consider to be M-N's most outstanding boy and girl athletes? The Mar-News Fall Outstanding Athlete Award will be presented to the girl and boy whom you select.

The poll will be taken from October 19 to 27. The official ballot are found on the third page of the paper and are to be submitted in the box in Room 109.

The names of the top five boys and girls will be printed in the next issue of the Mar-News, and the actual awards, trophies presented by the Mar-News, courtesy of Frank C. Videon of Newtown

One of the major differences between our school systems is the method of student government. In a New Zealand school the faculty will select responsible students from the senior class to help them in the general supervision of the school, especially in the matters of discipline. These "Prefects", as they are called, are parallel to your Student and Executive Committees but with more authority and power. I can understand how this could seem a form of dictatorship to anyone not used to the system, but in practice the Prefects' privileges are seldom abused.

As a final note, I would like to add that I will be only too pleased to answer any questions about New Zealand which you may have.

LIBRARY AIDS

Because our library is of value to both the students and the faculty of Marple-Newtown Senior High, the service rendered by the library aides is of great importance. This group of girls has relinquished their study hall periods in order to help in the library. Their pay is merely self-satisfaction, not a material gain. By shelving books, covering and stamping new books and magazines, attending to the check out desk and performing other time consuming tasks, the girls allow Mrs. Murphy to attend to the more pressing jobs of a busy librarian.

Not only are the library aides serving our school, they are helping themselves. They become familiar with the functions and arrangement of the library as well as the duties of the librarian. This will prove most useful in the future - especially if the future encompasses college or a career in library science.

The library assistants are a valuable asset to our school and are to be commended for the diligence, persistence and willingness with which they serve the faculty and student body.

LIBRARY

Our library is growing every year into one of which our school can be proud. New books are brought in regularly so that we are acquiring a well-rounded collection. Much of this growth is due to the unceasing work of Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Rich, her assitant. They help make our library a pleasant place in which to study and do research work.

OFFICE STAFF

Mrs. Tatum and Mrs. Ziegler are responsible for doing the many routine tasks which make our school run smoothly. They keep all the records, which we will need when we leave school, in order. Often their helpful jobs and cheery smiles go unrewarded, yet they are appreciated by everyone who uses their services.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service is a relatively new organization at Marple-Newtown, but it has grown tremendously since it was established by Martha Mc Crumm in 1959. The purpose of this club is to give high school students an opportunity to better international friendship and understanding through a student exchange program.

Each year candidates from the Junior Class are chosen as being eligible to go abroad in the Americans Abroad Program. Each year AFS also sponsors a foreign student to live in and go to school at Marple-Newtown.

The club is divided into two parts: the Fund Raising Committee and the Service Committee. The former sponsors dances, movies, a paperback bookstore, picture sales, and many other activities. The latter organizes assemblies, parites and other meetings among American and foreign students.

The officers for the 1961-62 year are Linda Schatkowski, President; Lilly Belle Howard, Vice President; Joanne Wenrich, Secretary; Diane Eby, Treasure; Gerry Girol, Sergeant-at-arms Sharon Mooney, Parliamentarian. The club and its officers are proud of the support the rest of the student body has given to the AFS ideal. Without the enthusiasm of the whole school our AFS club would not have the reputation of the most active in Delaware Valley.

NEW ZEALAND'S AMBASSADOR TO M-N

Philip Ashenden, our energetic American Field Service exchange student, will long be remembered by Marple-Newtown. During Phil's senior year with us, we learned a great deal about the young people of New Zealand, his native country. The Dominion of New Zealand is a self-governing country in the British Commonwealth. It consists of several islands twelve hundred miles, S.E. of Australia. Phil's family in New Zealand includes two brothers and two sisters. With the aid of a brilliant scholastic record and extracurricular activities, Phil won an A.F.S. scholarship to America. Soon he left New Zealand by plane to make new friends on the other side of the earth.

Never had Marple-Newtown received an exchange student as vigorous as Phil Ashenden. The good-looking New Zealander had the ability to lead besides being an all-around athlete. Although Phil never played football before coming to America, he joined the varsity football team as a place kicker. Simultaneously he was on the student council and sang in the chorus. Not satisfied that he had enough activities, Phil took a role in the senior play! He also enjoys modern music, public speaking, golf, shooting, swimming, and skiing.

It was interesting to hear English spoken by an Englishman. In history, we heard about America's foreign policy first-hand. While we learned from Phil, he learned from us. Marple-Newtown was very different from the boarding school that he attended in New Zealand. Phil liked many of the differences at Marple-Newtown including the informal classroom atmosphere.

At Commencement, Phil Ashenden received a diploma and brought a happy year to a close. He then returned to New Zealand, his native land. The good feeling and better understanding that he had helped create did not end when he left us. We will always have a special friendship for the people of New Zealand because of Phil's year at Marple-Newtown.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Future Homemakers of America, under the sponsorship of Miss Fuoco, spent a very interesting and profitable year. Their varied activities included: serving luncheon at the Women's Club bazaar; visiting nursing homes and orphanages; having speakers on several domestic subjects; preparing special festivities for the Christmas holidays; and holding a dance in the latter part of the school term. To complete their program for the 1961-1962 year the FHA had a dinner at which new officers were installed. The officers for this year were Kathy West, President, Nancy Brostrum, Vice President; Nancy Frazier, Treasurer; and Babette Sidlick, Secretary.

The club helps its members by planning such activities as movies, guest speakers, and visits to hospitals, where they not only learn, but also hold parties for the patients. They also hold bake sales as fund-raising events.

TRI-HI-Y

The purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y is "to create, maintain and extend, throughout home, school and community, high standards of Christian character." During the school year, this group of forty-two girls incorporated their purpose into every activity. In the fall the girls sold mints for "Buildings for Brotherhood," a world-wide project to establish buildings in needed areas, and sold mums for the Thanksgiving game. Their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, held in November, was one of the most successful dances of the year. At Christmas and at Easter the girls gave parties for local orphanages, and, when necessary, served as guides for school activities. Their main project, originated this year, was the adoption of a child in Korea whom they helped support and with whom they corresponded. Also, a portion of their treasury was set aside for a scholarship for a graduating senior. The climax of the year was the Mother and Daughter banquet in the spring at which time the officers for the following year were named. The girls' faculty advisor was Mrs. Mary Nestor. The officers were: President — Carol Nelson; Vice President — Deedee Krauss; Recording Secretary — Roberta Snyder; Corresponding Secretary — Sue Farr; Treasurer — Barbara Lier; Chaplain — Grace Ferguson; Parliamentarian — Nancy Frazer; Sergeant-at-Arms — Barbara Yearsley.

HI-Y

Our Marple-Newton HI-Y is a local division of the National HI-Y Fellowship organized by the Y.M.C.A. Or group of 35 boys is affiliated with the Community Y.M.C.A. in Lansdowne. The main objective of this organization is service to their home, school, and community. In cooperation with the Y.M.C.A. the boys sold mints. The funds from this project are being used to provide Y.M.C.A. buildings in foreign lands.

Throughout the year the club planned and participated in many various activities. In December they organized a basketball team to play in a Y-Winter League. Later the same month, the fellows held a dance to honor our champion football team. Another of the club's social activities was the Second Annual Beatnik Dance. In February the HI-Y held a skating party in cooperation with the TRI-HI-Y. The club celebrated the graduation of the Seniors with a party in June. The whole year was highlighted by many other social events such as hayrides.

SCOTT'S HI-Q

Scott's Hi-Q is a quiz show aimed to test the general knowledge of high school students. Each school in the area has a series of three meets, with three schools competing each week. The contests are broadcast over a local radio station.

This year the members of the team were Donald Belfer, Donald Bickford, Carol Sander, and Lynn Tilley. There were two alternates, James Stickle and Charles Koliner, who substituted in case of the absence of a regular member.

Dr. Jay Greuner, the advisor of the team, selected the members of the team. They were chosen primarily for their general knowledge in all subjects.

DEBATING CLUB

This year the debating club of Marple-Newtown High School debated the topic of "Federal Aid to Education." In January, several of the debators visited the University of Pennsylvania. There they spoke extemporaneously, since the specific topic for the debate was not disclosed until they arrived. During May, the team also visited Temple University and participated in a series of debates with schools representing the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Much credit is due Mr. Stephen Kachur, advisor, who has done much to revive interest in debating and to place Marple-Newtown, once again, as a leader in high school debating.

ART CLUB

During the past few years, Marple-Newton High School has been growing at a rapid rate; and with the growth has come many new organizations, one of which is the Art Club. The Art Club was formed to help promote a higher level of art work that is to be on display in our school. While doing so, we hope to instill in the student body a better understanding of art and to help build a standing pride in their school. We of the Art Club feel that the student body should be well informed and encouraged to come out in support of the various school activities which do so much to build the school's spirit.

LANGUAGE CLUB

The newly revised Language Club is under the direction of Dr. Colli and Mrs. Rippeon. Its purpose is three fold:

1. get acquainted with the culture of the people of the world.
2. promote good will and understanding.
3. encourage the students to futher their interest in language.

The program for the past year included various speakers explaining their native languages and bake sales after school to raise money.

MATHEMATICS CLUB — MU ALPHA THETA

The mathematics club of Marple-Newtown is a member of a nationwide organization of math clubs known as Mu Alpha Theta. It is designed to promote the understanding of mathematics and mathematical careers.

The club, sponsored by Miss Lewis, and Mrs. Levin, discusses unusual topics in math at its meetings. Some of its projects are on topology, probability, number systems and calculus.

The members are well qualified to discuss these topics, as they all must have completed two years of college preparatory mathematics with a B average to be eligible for membership.

MARPLE-NEWTOWN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

The Marple-Newtown Astronautical Society was a new organization this year. Sponsored by Mr. Davis, the society has proposed to advance the knowledge of the science of modern rocketry in its membership. In November, preparing for a larger instrumented vehicle, members coordinated their own and outside information in the building, fueling, and firing of a small one-inch rocket. The vehicle carried a parachute for recovery. With such high hopes and achievements, the Marple-Newtown Astronautical Society will be successful.

STAGE CREW

Walk into the school any night just before a play and you will find the stage crew working frantically to finish a set. This is one of the many activities of the "men behind the scene." Working under the direction of Mr. Earl Benevit, the boys may put in as many as thirty hours of work in a week. The crew is responsible for the technical work not only for plays, but for dances, P.T.A. meetings, assemblies, concerts, recitals, and even the P.A. system for the football games.

This year, with the purchase of over $200 worth of new equipment, the crew has been able to serve the school better than ever before. The work is divided into three areas, each with its own student supervisor. The audio head is Wade Chandler. This group sets up a P.A. system or sound effects whenever and wherever they are needed. The lighting crew, responsible to Raymond Edwards, uses the panel backstage for various effects in the auditorium, and also provides multicolor lights decoration in the gym for dances. Irv Neimeyer heads the scenery crew which carries out the carpentry needed for plays.

MUSICMAKERS

CHORUS

This year's chorus proved to be one of the most inspiring assets of the musical activities at Marple Newtown. Under the direction of Mr. Oberholtzer and President Bob Duerr, this excellent group of 40 voices gave moving renditions of popular, classical, and secular music. Busily practicing every morning before school throughout the year, the chorus sang at numerous PTA meetings; presented a fall concert in October; gave a beautiful Christmas carol service. The highlight of the year's activities of the chorus was the annual spring concert in which it presented excerpts from a Broadway musical. Singing at Baccalaureate services rounded out the year's work.

BAND

Talent for music and precision for marching made MN's band one of the best high school instrumental groups. Orange and black uniforms were present at football games to cheer the Tigers to victory. Under the direction of Mr. Donald Schultz and co-captains Sandra Wathen and Donald Bickford, fifty-four accomplished musicians harmonized. The band also performed two fine concerts and was featured at the assembly programs. The conclusion of the year for the band was the Memorial Day parade.

M-N SPIRIT

Through the record-breaking season of football and the exciting season of basketball, our cheering squad has kept enthusiasm at its highest peak. Coached by Mrs. Nester and captained by Pat Monjar, the girls have cheered in blazing heat and pouring rain to pull the teams on to victory. They also presented hilarious pep rallies and skits which will never be forgotten.

The snappy Marple-Newtown color guard has long been a favorite at the football games. Not only did they carry the flags of our school and country, but they also exhibited many intricate drills.

BOOSTERS

The fans will not soon forget this group of eight vivacious girls, under the leadership of their captain Barbara Lier.

The majorettes have long been an integral part of M.-N.'s football games. Their animated routines were a pleasant half-time diversion from the blocks, tackles and touchdowns of the game. Under the capable leadership of Lynn Weller and Shirley McKay, the girls have proven their skill in many half-time activities.

Marple-Newtown Wins, Takes Suburban Two Lead

Ridley Township Loses 1st, 20-13, To Unbeaten Foe

Marple Newtown High took possession of first place in Suburban Two Saturday by winning the battle of unbeatens, 20-13, over Ridley Township in the mud and rain at Newtown Square.

The win was the fourth without a loss for Lou Bonder's Tigers, and the third in league play. The defeat was the first in five outings for Ridley, which is now 2-1 in the league.

RIDLEY SCORES FIRST

Phil Marion's Raiders appeared headed for victory number five when they rolled down the field with the opening series to score. Jim Sutton connected with Jack Hoopes good for 37 yards and the touchdown.

However, the Tigers came right back to knot the score 6-all when Jack Stewart got off on a 71-yard scamper to the Ridley two and Danny Murphy took it over two plays later from the one. Murphy then rolled out to his right on the keeper to notch the extra point and a 7-6 lead.

STARKS SCORES

Early in the second quarter, Ridley went ahead again when Phil Marion, Jr., plowed up the middle to score from the one. Ken Blair's placement was good for a 13-7 Ridley advantage.

After the kickoff Marple-Newtown drove 53 in six plays, with Murphy again rolling around right and after a beautiful fake handoff. He went 28 yards untouched for the score. Ed Allen then bulled over left tackle to put the Tigers ahead 14-13.

STEWART TD DECIDES

The two teams, playing surprisingly good ball on the wet turf, battled through a scoreless second half until Marple-Newtown tallied early in the fourth quarter.

Stewart went off right tackle, cut back to his left and went over standing up after a 16-yard run. Murphy's run for bonus point failed and Ridley was still within tying distance.

The Raiders marched from their own 40 to the Newtown 2 only to lose the ball on one of the game's rare fumbles. Tackle Rich Reinhardt recovered for the winners.

Mr. Dobransky, Mr. Bonder, Mr. Williams, Mr. Rhodes.

The team, under the direction of co-captains Danny Murphy, at quarterback, and Bill Cook, at guard, led the Tigers to the most successful season ever experienced at Marple Newtown. Coach Lou Bonder's boys highlighted the season with a great victory, upsetting previously undefeated Ridley Township on a rain-soaked field by a score of 20-13. The team displayed great spirit and at all times was a fine representative of our school. The team showed its great strength by turning back two Section I powerhouses, Haverford was defeated by a score of 25 to 6, and Upper Darby was defeated 13 to 7.

Hockey

Joanne Enderly takes a corner.

This year the girls of the Senior High were joined by the sophomores from the Paxon Hollow School to form a team of sixty-four. Every day the team practiced from 3:30 to 5:00. Under the direction of Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Wilson, and Lynn Dulaney, their captain, the team progressed from simple drills to synchronized teamwork. Throughout the season, this teamwork was tested in eight games, all of which were held on Thursdays. The third and fourth team also played several games.

A banquet was held in the gymnasium after the final game. At this time skits were presented, gifts were given to the seniors, co-captains were elected for next year, and the hockey season for 1961 was officially ended. The 1962 co-captains are Trina Van Dusen and Joanne Enderle.

HERE'S CINDERS IN YOUR EYES

Cross country is unique at Marple Newtown. The undying team spirit, the lazy friendliness of warm-ups, and the straining competition of practices and meets have developed a technically individual sport into a team event here at Marple Newtown. The team's record for the last four years is 43 wins and only one loss, 4 Section Two championships, 2 district championships, and high placings at two state meets. This year's team, under its captain, Rod Wallace, and with the winning help of Howard Rich, finished third at the district meet. The team shows every indication of many more winning seasons to come under the successful coaching of Mr. Earl Shores.

M-N Mat Men

Although this was only the second year for the wrestling team in our school, it had several advantages over last year's team. For one, it had the added experience of members of last year's team, and it was fortunate enough to get a wrestling room for practice at the junior high school. Also, this year the team had two fine coaches from the Paxon Hollow School. Mr. James Jones and Mr. Stephen Williams, who were assisted at times by Mr. Graham of the junior high school.

Competition was keen this year with five additional matches added to last year's schedule. This brought the total number to thirteen matches this year.

Wrestling practice officially began on the first of November, and the season extended into the middle of February. In spite of this long season, with practice every day from three thirty to six o'clock during the week and practice on Saturdays and holidays, the boys were always enthusiastic and never lost interest.

With two years experience behind it, the team is looking forward to many more years of wrestling at Marple Newtown.

Girls' Swimming

On your mark! Get set! Go!

Under the capable direction of their coaches, Miss Mary Ann Pierce and Mr. Shern, the Marple Newtown swimming team practiced every Monday, Wednesday and Friday during this winter season. The team, consisting of seventy hard working ninth through twelfth graders, used the indoor swimming pool of the Suburban Swim Club for their practices. Although practices are varied, they consist of at least two fifty-yard sprints of the breast stroke, butterfly stroke, and back stroke. Also, there is always a guarantee of at least two one hundred yard free style races. Cut this in half for the girls, add a little diving, and you have the recipe for a hard, but sometimes amusing, workout.

Boys' Swimming

A fast take-off by the boys team.

Often, their exciting meets fell on days other than practice days, making a full rigorous week for the swimmers. The coach, team members and managers strove to make their first competitive season a good one. The swimming team competed against some of the most experienced teams in the entire Philadelphia area, since there is no swimming league for the suburbs. Great admiration should be rendered to the swimming team, for swimming is a comparatively new sport at Marple Newton, and great stamina is required to build a strong swim team.

The co-captains of the boys' team are Ted Vogt and Bill Cook. They are aided in their administrative responsibilities by manager Lennie Lundy. The co-captains of the girls' team are Kathy Hutton and Sue Farr. The manager is Sally Boone.

Our Snappy

The girls' basketball team at Marple-Newtown this year experienced a fair season. Even though they did not win every game, they played each game with a determination to win. Co-captains Joanne Williams and Barbara Yearsley boasted the confidence and morale of the hardworking team members. Sue Mazow and Trina Van Dusen were the outstanding varsity players from the Junior Class. High scoring Sue Pasemini led the Sophomores and the Junior Varsity team to their victories. The five capable managers organized the team's practices and aided the two coaches. Mrs. Vera Egner and Miss Mildred Wilson aided the team and improved their form over the season.

M-N Hoopsters

Marple Newtown High School's '61-'62 basketball team, although not equaling the fine season of the football squad, provided some real thrills for the Tiger rooters. Coach Dave Williams' boys were never completely outclassed even in their worst defeat. Despite a lack of height so necessary in this sport, the Orange and Black hoopsters managed to keep pace with their rivals through sheer determination and hustle.

Although the season started off on an unhappy note, the dauntless courtmen steadily improved as the year progressed. Much credit goes to Captain Ken Elliott, Jim Stickle, Bill Johnson, Bob Morrison, Bob Wilson, and Jim Schmidt, the Senior sparks. Tom Niles and Chuck Foley carried the flag for the junior class.

Coach Bill Watson's Junior Varsity was led by junior Lee Ellis and sophomores Ronnie Cooper, Henry Wolfman, and Charles Peoples. The jayvees also showed the ability to come up from behind and should bolster next year's varsity squad.

The Junior Class, comprising over half of the student body, has assumed an increasing role in the life of Marple-Newtown. The Juniors had the opportunity to send members of their class abroad under the auspices of the American Field Service. They could enrich themselves further because they were involved in team teaching. With this new method of teaching, the students could have the advantage of the opinions of many skilled teachers, each proficient in one branch of a subject.

This year the Juniors had many varied activities. In October, they conducted their magazine sale, which gave them the funds to conduct their class activities. On April 6 and 7 they presented their play. On May 26 they held their prom, the culmination of their year as Juniors. After this formative year, they will be ready to take their place as Seniors at Marple-Newtown.

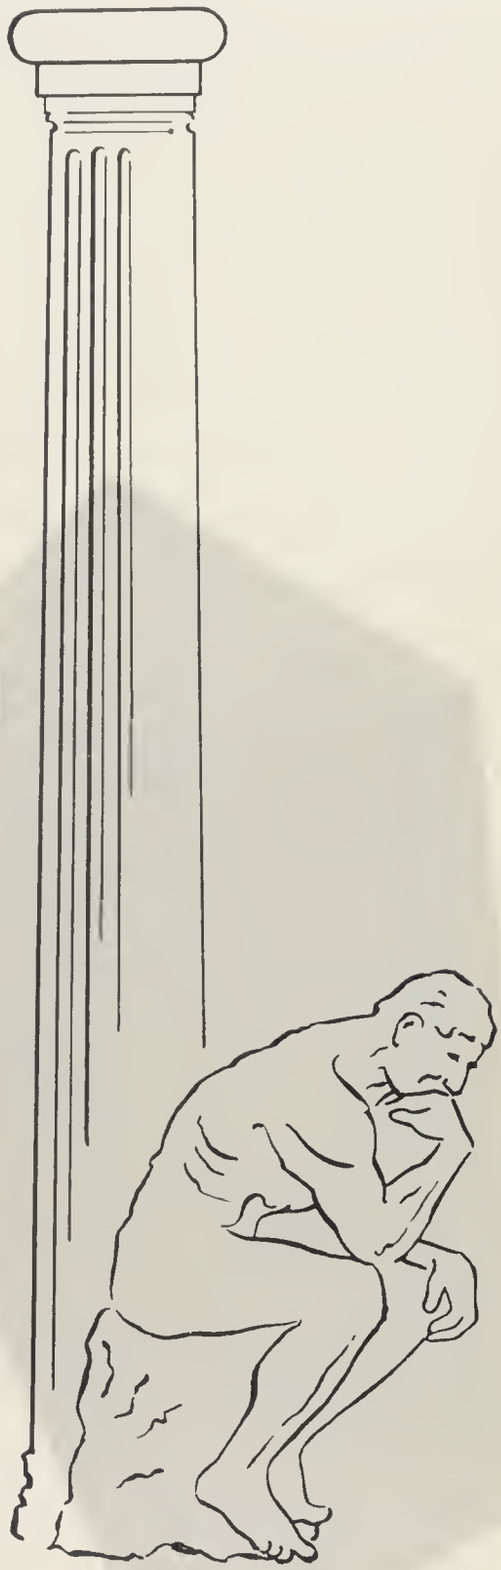
SPECIAL ACTIVITIES



Mr. Schultz leading the concert band.

The Band Concert

This year's band was active during the whole winter rather than dormant as most bands were. In January the band presented a concert at the Marple Grade School to acquaint the elementary school pupils with the part of the band.

Everyone who attended the home basketball games was entertained by the second major activity of the band. This was the Pep Band. Composed of over 30 volunteers from the regular band, this group provided a tuneful accompaniment to half time, time outs, and the time between the varsity and junior varsity games. They played such rousing marches as "Semper Fidelis," popular tunes as "Peter Gunn," and the traditional school songs as "M-N Will Shine" and "The Tiger Fight Song."

As a just reward for all their arduous activities, the band had a concert dinner dance in March.

National Honor Society

Character, leadership, scholarship and service are the prerequisites for membership in the National Honor Society. Each year new members are inducted into the society on the basis of these requirements. The number of members is limited to those students who fulfill these characteristics as decided by a panel of twelve teachers. One money raising project is held each year by the members to raise money for pins for the newly inducted members. At the end of the year the members' parents hold a party to greet the new members and bid farewell to the departing seniors.

Seniors at their Junior Prom.

The Marple-Newton gym was transported to Paris for the Junior Prom on May 27. In the atmosphere of a French café the couples danced to the delightful music of Paul Hoffman and his orchestra. The dim light of the gas lamps shown on the cafe tables and on the Eiffel Tower creating a romantic mood. Once in a while, a couple strolled out to the French pastry shop for some of the beautifully decorated petits fours. At 11:30 P.M. everyone's eyes were turned toward Pat Monjar as she was crowned Queen of the Prom. The evening was concluded with a delicious breakfast which was served by the parents.

The flowing melody of "Tonight" will forever remind us of the romantic atmosphere of the Senior Prom. December 29 was our "Tonight" at the General Washington Country Club. After braving the treacherous roads, the merrymakers danced from 9:00 till 1:00 to the music of Al Raymond and his orchestra. The dancing was interrupted only by the crowning of the queen, which took place at the stroke of midnight. Sue Neilson happily accepted the crown from Pat Monjar to become the queen of the Senior Prom.

All was not over when the daneing was through, for a delicious breakfast followed.

After the breakfast, the eountry club began to empty as the eouples went to various parties to perpetuate the glorious mood of the prom for a few more hours. The tired but happy dancers returned to their homes in the wee hours of the morning. The only tangible souvenir of the wonderful evening was a key, but the memory of the Senior Prom will long endure.

"Tonight, tonight, won't be just any night . . ." will forever remind us of the erystal elear evening of the Class of '62's Senior Prom.

Roebuck Ramsden, Ann Whitefield, Henry Straker, Jack Tanner, Hector Malone, Mrs. Whitefield, Tavy Robinson.

Man and Superman

The curtain opens on Roebuck Ramsden, the blustering old man. The pert, little maid, enters and announces the entrance of Octavius. Robinson, the romantic poet. After Ramsden blusters through a few lines of consolation, we learn that Octavius is grieving for the death of his beloved's father. His beloved, Anne Whitefield is the vivacious flirtatious and overly-sweet heroine of our play. Anne finds herself caught between Octavius's love and her love for Jack, the revolutionist philosopher who refuses to marry. Anne catches Jack in the end, proving that it is really the woman who chases the man. Anne's mother, Mrs. Whitefield feels that the whole world is carried on her shoulders. This complaining old woman is more than happy to see her daughter "meet her match" in Jack.

The underplot of this exciting play deals with a young, attractive woman, Violet Robinson. She is accused of having an affair with a man and the entire family thinks that she is not married. In a violent scene with Miss Ramsden, the old dried up prune, we find that she is really married, but she refuses to divulge the identity of her husband. Hector Malone, the young man from America, is found to be Violet's secret husband in a scene with his father, Mr. Malone, an old Irish gent who wants nothing but the best for his son. The play ends with all of the women getting their men, although Jack doesn't feel that his capture by Ann is a very joyous occasion.

George Bernard Shaw's play, which points out some of the ridiculous aspects of society, was well produced — a performance which will never be forgotten by those who saw it. The actors and actresses deserve much credit, but this play could never have been a success without the help of all the committees organized by Mrs. Kantor, the director; Miss Belefonte, the producer; Beth Dresner, the student director; and Doris Crossan and Lynn Tilley, the student producers.

This headline appeared in many London newspapers in the 1930's. Under this headline was printed the intriguing case of the murder of Miss Emily French. The trial of Leonard Vole overflowed with hates and sympathies. Vole's shrewd and beautiful wife, Romaine, played an exceedingly important part in Leonard's acquittal. She introduced a false element of infidelity on her part to gain his freedom. After the trial a new factor entered the case — a beautiful young woman who was Len's love. Romaine, after having perjured herself for Leonard, was enraged at this. Vole admitted that he did kill Miss French for her money. After harsh words came between Leonard and Romaine, the case was closed as Romaine murdered her husband.

THE PROSECUTION

MURDER OF MISS EMILY FRENCH."

The murder, the trial, and the entire case of Leonard Vole came from the mind of Agatha Christie, author of Witness for the Prosecution, the Senior's Junior play. The Seniors will look back to the evenings of April 27 and 28, 1961, with fond memories of this play. As Juniors, the Seniors presented the first serious drama in the history of Marple-Newtown. This was also the first play involving a scene change. This complicated the jobs of the stage crew and the cast. The directors of the play were Mrs. Dianne Linn and Miss Arlene Belefonte. They were capably assisted by Joanne Williams, the student director.

Memories '62

The yearbook staff was composed of a hard core of dedicated, conscientious students. Headed by co-editors Jean Wright and Don Eagles, they functioned efficiently. The general staff was composed of five sections: the editorial board, the layout staff, the subscription staff, the business staff, and the typing staff. The editorial board, headed by Sara Jane Mullin and Jan Ferris, was responsible for all copy which appears in Memories. They had eight assistants to help them meet their deadlines. The layout section, headed by Anna Keck, was responsible for the placement of pictures and copy on the pages. Since a yearbook must be sold to be appreciated, an important section of the yearbook is the subscription staff. This group was headed by Barbara Lier. The business staff was headed by Business Manager Larry Engle, who helped raise money through advertisements and patrons. The typing staff worked diligently to type all copy before each deadline.

Every afternoon the staff was hard at work in the publications room, pounding to meet their deadlines. The staff was guided and helped considerably by the capable direction of Mr. Capriotti. He inspired the staff to high levels of production and prodded to get the monumental task completed. The well-organized, final yearbook would not have been possible without the cooperation of all of its integral parts.

Nothing can withstand the powers of the mind. Barriers, enormous masses of matter, the remotest recesses are conquered: all things succumb: the very heaven itself is laid open.

Anne in her boarding house room.

One of her last Danish classes with fellow AFSers.

M-N'S Senior Abroad

This year Marple-Newtown's ambassador abroad was Anne Engelking. After careful screening by the American Field Service, Anne was selected. A home apropos to Anne's character and interests was found in Denmark. Anne learned that her family, the Rasmussens, lived on the Korsr (an island east of Jutland.)

On June 5, she sailed from Montreal on the AFS ship, the Seven Seas, with eight hundred other exchange students. Anne docked at Rotterdam, Holland, and went by train through Holland and Germany to Jutland. From there she took a ferry to Flyn and continued to Korsr.

Before joining her family, Anne attended a boarding school for six weeks of concentrated study of the Danish language.

In late August, when her course was completed, the Rasmussens came and took Anne to their summer home on the coast. They stayed there until it was necessary to return to Korsr for the beginning of the school term.

From the beginning, Anne and her family adjusted to each other easily. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, her Danish parents, managed a mink farm, and her brother, Flenning, was a college student. Grethe, her sister, was a close companion and had a subtle way of assisting Anne with her problems.

Grethe and Anne rode their bikes to the station where they took the train to school in Slozelse. Grethe was in the majority of Anne's classes which were Danish, French I, German IV, Swedish I, history, nature, mathematics, gym and music. By November, Anne had mastered Danish well enough to give speeches on American life.

Through her letters Anne related these interesting comparisons

"The teachers kid around more than at M-N, because there is no discipline problem. All students must take an exam to get in, and once they're in, they want to stay. There are six hours each day with ten minutes between classes. The teachers give very little written work."

"The whole dress code is relaxed; girls may wear slacks. Teachers wear anything from a suit, to kakis and a plaid shirt."

Anne also wrote of Danish impressions of American and world politics.

"You should hear some of the ideas about the United States. Most people have at least two cars, all the buildings are very modern, all food is from cans, all cities are big like New York and Philadelphia,and all the people are wealthy."

"President Kennedy looks very good from here on his firm stand in Berlin. The people I talked with like his idea on the Peace Corps very much. Other than these points they talk about America's wealth in cars. Most people here are against Communism. There are attacks poking at Russia but there are others just as severe which criticize U.S. wealth."

Ann returned to Marple-Newtown in late January eager to complete her Senior year and share her experiences and knowledge to her fellow Americans.

One of the meals at the boarding house, beer soup.

Just relaxing with friends.

Dear Cathy,
Good Luck in your last three years of school. Never forget the fun, and all the neat times we've had together. Even though we won't be going to the same school next year, we can still get together during vacations. Lots of luck to a great kid.
Love,
Deirdre

Kathy,
